Dear Members of Congress,

We the undersigned 140 organizations stand with Black communities, and all communities of color in America and at our borders, who have been relentlessly targeted in the media, in the halls of Congress, and tragically, by armed white supremacists. From El Paso to Pittsburgh, and across cities and towns in the U.S., the targeted murder of 10 people in a predominantly Black neighborhood in Buffalo is the latest in a series of tragedies directly inspired by white supremacist ideology. The racist and xenophobic concepts allowed to flourish online are being used to dehumanize and ferment violence against Black people, immigrants of color, Jews, Muslims, Latinos, Asian Americans, LGBTQIA+ people, and many other groups targeted by white supremacists.

The killer in Buffalo issued an online manifesto that includes a full-throated recitation of the “Great Replacement” theory. This conspiracy theory rooted in hatred purports that immigrants of color are coming to Europe and America in a scheme to “replace” white people and are aided and abetted by Jews. In his so-called manifesto, the Buffalo murderer asserted that America is in the midst of an “invasion.” The now commonly-invoked conspiracy theory—that those coming to our southern border to request asylum constitute an “invading” force—is directly linked to the “Great Replacement” theory.

This racist theory and its offshoots have permeated the political sphere and the media, fostered and normalized by public officials, online platforms, and media commentators. Its amplification has transformed public sentiment: One-third of Americans say they are “concerned that immigrants are being brought to the country by a group of people for political gains,” which is a central argument of these white supremacist theories.

Efforts to upend our asylum system are directly related to these theories and the attacks they inspire. Despite a recent court ruling that will keep Title 42 in place indefinitely, far-right members of Congress are threatening to hold hostage important COVID funding legislation to move forward policies that would dismantle our asylum system for years to come, blocking refugees and asylum seekers of color at our borders. These anti-immigrant, white supremacist efforts are rooted in the consistent far-right attacks against non-white immigrants, which they have made central to their electoral strategy. Right-wing politicians have espoused the poisonous “open borders,” “migrant invasion,” and “mass amnesty” rhetoric to distort President Biden’s immigration policies, block legislative reform, and undermine the termination of Title 42. Since January 2021, over 23,000 people, including pregnant women and children have been sent to Haiti, and most were expelled under Title 42. These deportation flights, which are now up to 7 flights a day, should be ceased immediately. And since the implementation of Title 42 at the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic, it has been used to cruelly expel over a million people to countries experiencing dangerous conditions or along the Southern border, despite the CDC’s decision to rescind the order and opposition by public health experts. Let us be crystal clear: all efforts to villainize and keep migrants, asylum seekers, and refugees out of our country are part of a larger, violent white supremacist project.

First and foremost, we urge Congressional leaders to carry out the policy priorities of Black leaders and civil rights organizations to address violence against Black communities. They further should deliver on the campaign promises they made to the American electorate and, at a minimum, Congress should not create further harm by enacting anti-immigrant legislation. Instead, they should vote to protect undocumented immigrant youth and DACA recipients; they should vote to prioritize families and strengthen our legal immigration system; they should reopen and strengthen our asylum system; and they should ensure that localities have the resources to address migration comprehensively and humanely. This is what they can do today instead of submitting to bigoted efforts to redefine who we are as a nation.

As leading organizations who fought relentlessly against the outright racism of the prior administration and its efforts to tear down our immigration system, we urge Congressional leaders to reject demands to pursue a border policy debate rife with scare-mongering, anti-Black, and anti-immigrant sentiment as Congress seeks to pass important COVID funding legislation.

Support for the Lankford-Sinema legislation sends a dangerous signal to the American people—that they are willing to compromise our American values for fear of political, far-right attacks, undermine the administration’s efforts to finally rollback countless cruel and racist immigration policies, and eliminate a fair and just process that would allow people to exercise their right to seek asylum as enshrined in our laws and supported by Americans at large. It would also be a vote to codify Stephen Miller’s and a designated hate groups’ signature policy.

The Biden administration made the absolute correct—and long overdue—call to finally lift Title 42 to allow people to pursue their legal right to seek asylum. Supporting the Lankford-Sinema bill or any amendment like it that could shut the doors on asylum at the border indefinitely flies in the face of our nation’s values and commitments.

Sincerely,
