

We are a values-based membership association of survivors of human trafficking from all over the United States and abroad working together using an inclusive, evidence-informed, public health, human rights, harm reduction approach.

We aim to develop, equip, and empower a community of survivors of human trafficking engaging in advocacy, education, peer-to-peer mentorship, prevention, and policy work

WE ARE WORKING TOWARD A MORE INCLUSIVE MOVEMENT

This means creating safer, braver, emergent spaces for survivors who have often been excluded from sector engagement.

Develop

Professional development opportunities to people with lived experience of human trafficking to build their professional, organizational, and advocacy skills.

Equip

Equip survivors to be movement organizers, thought leaders, and changemakers through building their strategic organizing skills as well as “soft skills.”

Empower

Develop and equip organizations and allies working in the anti-trafficking sector to be better colleagues to survivors working in our movement.
