Re: FY19 Continuing Resolution Must Not Allow for Expanded Immigration Detention

Dear Majority Leader McConnell, Leader Schumer, Speaker Ryan, Leader Pelosi, Chairman Shelby, Vice Chairman Leahy, Chairman Frelinghuysen and Ranking Member Lowey:

The Department of Homeland Security (DHS)'s appropriated budget for immigration detention and enforcement has jumped by nearly one billion dollars in the past two years, from $3.212 billion in fiscal year 2016 to $4.110 billion in fiscal year 2018.¹ DHS has achieved this massive increase through chronic fiscal mismanagement² and outright manipulation of the appropriations process.³ Over the past two years DHS has persistently overspent its detention budget, confident that Congress will permit regular infusions of funds through reprogramming and transfers. By meeting this expectation, Congress has essentially given DHS the power to write its own appropriation by using its inflated detention budget as the starting point for each subsequent spending negotiation.

² See Government Accountability Office, Immigration Detention: Opportunities Exist to Improve Cost Estimates (April 2018), <https://bit.ly/2PEDpY8> (finding ICE's methods for estimating detention costs do not meet the "characteristics of a reliable cost estimate" and documenting ICE's consistent pattern of reprogramming and transferring "millions of dollars into, out of, and within" its detention account).

³ See Senate Report, Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act, 2019, <https://bit.ly/2MW1BHI> (expressing "persistent and growing concerns about ICE's lack of fiscal discipline, whether real or manufactured,

This cycle must end. In March, Congress funded Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) to jail an average daily population of 40,500 individuals for fiscal year 2018; yet, as we approach the end of the year, ICE holds more than 45,000 individuals behind bars.⁴ This growth represents a capacity to jail nearly 350,000 people each year.⁵ And now DHS is angling to increase its detention budget above 2018 levels in a fiscal year 2019 Continuing Resolution, yet again ratcheting up its baseline funding in anticipation of subsequent negotiations over a final funding bill.

DHS's manipulation of the appropriations process comes at a human cost that will haunt our nation for generations to come. As spending negotiations are underway, nearly 500 children torn from their parents as part of this administration's zero tolerance policy remain in government custody, alone and scared.⁶ ICE has continually proven to be incapable of providing for the basic health and safety of the people it jails each year—more than half of recently reviewed deaths in custody are attributable to medical failures, and sexual abuse is unchecked throughout ICE's jails.⁷ This summer, one-and-a-half-year old Mariee Juarez died shortly after her release from the South Texas Family Residential Center, and a complaint filed on her behalf asserts her death was a direct result of her time in ICE custody.⁸ DHS's own inspector general has raised serious concerns about the conditions inside ICE's jails⁹ and has found the system of inspections governing ICE's jails to be a sham, with facilities regularly passing inspections despite significant deficiencies.¹⁰ and its inability to manage detention resources within the appropriations made by law without the threat of anti-deficiency...”).

DHS must be held to account for its fiscally irresponsible actions which fuel a detention system that destroys lives and families every day. With each spending cycle we urge you to vigorously pursue cuts to immigration detention and enforcement funds. When negotiating a fiscal year 2019 Continuing Resolution, we urge you to explicitly preclude DHS from expending funds on detention above agreed-upon levels for fiscal year 2018.
