Introduction to Human Trafficking
Pre-Conference Training
Tuesday, March 17, 2020
12:00 pm to 5:00 pm

The Introduction to Human Trafficking is a half-day session for conference attendees, which gives participants a foundation of human trafficking theory and practice. Participants will learn what human trafficking is, what legal services and social services are available to survivors, and obtain an understanding of the law enforcement framework. The training will explore case studies and give practical tools for service provision. The session will be delivered by practitioners in the field who will share best practices in the anti-trafficking field. This introduction to human trafficking will lay the foundation for those who are newer to the field and set the stage for the more advanced conference sessions. To register add "pre-conference" to your conference ticket.

Please note, lunch will not be served as part of this training. There are several food options inside the hotel and many more within walking distance. A generous afternoon snack break is included with the ticket price.
